Architect

Creative design studio | Global opportunities | Award-winning workplaces

We're looking for an Architect to join our San Francisco studio, where you'll work with a highly creative team involved in some of the region's most exciting developments in commercial architecture and workplace and urban design.

About us

We work across architecture, landscape architecture, interior design and urban design - a rich multi-disciplinary mix of skills and perspectives that unlocks the economic, social and cultural value of projects.

We combine our creative design expertise with capabilities in strategy, research, technology and experience design, and we regularly collaborate with experts and partners from further afield.

Through our work, we're trying to build a more inclusive, sustainable future for communities - and create a more socially and ecologically resilient world.

About the team

Our design values are shared globally across all the Hassell studios, by the talented people who work in them: architects, interior designers, landscape architects, urban designers, planners and specialist consultants.

We work together in integrated design teams because they produce the best outcomes for our clients. The increasingly complex projects that clients bring to us demand a culture built on collaboration, creativity, and innovation in design thinking and delivery.

Openness and empathy with our clients ensure their interests are at the heart of everything we design.

About the role

As an Architect with Hassell, you'll join a highly talented team of designers, working on a variety of prestigious international projects within commercial workplace architecture and interiors, public realm, and urban master planning.

Our team collaborates with some of the most well-known clients in the US, bringing together strategic intelligence and insights to design and create places where people will love to work, live and socialise.

You'll be responsible for design, documentation and construction phase services at the direction of senior team members on a range of project types.
