

The Architecture program at USF is growing and we're looking for qualified Adjunct faculty members from Architecture related professions to teach some classes. Following are Fall 2022 teaching opportunities:

ARCH 100 - Intro to Architecture and Community Design (1st year)
ARCH 110 - Drawing and Representation for Architecture (1st year)
ARCH 150 - Architectonics 1 – Beginning design, model making, drafting (1st year)
ARCH 240 - Materials & Methods – construction processes & CDs (2nd year)
ARCH 350 - Architecture Studio V – Public building in an urban setting (3rd year)
ARCH 410 - Portfolio Lab – portfolio development & jobs/MArch preparation (4th year)

Answers to common questions:

- What is the time commitment?

ARCH 100 - 2 units, Tuesday, 2:40-4:25pm and/or 4:35-6:20pm
ARCH 110 - 4 units, Tuesday/Thursday, 9-11:45am and/or 12:45-3:30pm
ARCH 150 - 2 units, Friday, 9:15-11:15am and/or 1:45-3:45pm
ARCH 240 - 4 units, 9-11:45am and/or 3:15-6pm
ARCH 350 - 4 units, Monday/Wednesday, 12-2:45pm
ARCH 410 - 2 units, Wednesday, 1:45-3:30pm
The Fall 2022 semester runs 8/23-12/7

- What does it pay?

$8,176 for each 4-unit course, and $4,088 for each 2-unit course.

- How do I apply?

Email Seth Wachtel <slwachtel@usfca.edu> and attach a Resume/CV (including relevant teaching experience)

- What are the qualifications?

Professional (terminal) degree in Architecture or related profession. USF values excellent teaching so teaching experience is a plus, but not required. This can include teaching assistantship (TA/GSI) during graduate school, adjunct teaching at other architecture programs, teaching within the firm, or other venues.

- Can I see a job description?

Each course has a syllabus that can be used as is or adapted. Many courses have multiple sections, so faculty members teaching the same course usually get together to coordinate assignments and reviews.

Studio courses are limited to 12 students per instructor, an amazing ratio.

- Is there any training?

You will be mentored by fellow faculty and the Architecture program director. There are also support services from the Dean's office.

- Is this live or online or both?

Courses are in-person. This past academic year, faculty and students were required to wear masks and be vaccinated.

- What about parking on Campus?

Most faculty take BART/Muni or Transbay bus/Muni. The majority of parking in the surrounding neighborhoods is limited to 2 hours before needing to move the car.
